Associate Director for Development and Donor Engagement

General Summary
The Associate Director of Development and Donor Engagement will engage Student Affairs donors and prospects through personal outreach using face-to-face visits, key programs, events, and communications with a goal of maximizing annual support and deepening institutional involvement. The Associate Director is a front-line fundraising professional who will use phone, email, social media, visits and events as well as other creative tools for engagement and cultivation, and solicitation of leadership level annual gift commitments (above $1,000 and below $25,000). As a member of Student Affairs, the Associate Director will be responsible for continuously learning about Illinois State University’s culture, programs, and evolving volunteer and fundraising opportunities. A donor-centric approach is used to inspire and qualify philanthropic interests in any area of Student Affairs as well as Illinois State University, which is achieved through strong partnership with the University Advancement team. The Associate Director position will require occasional evening and weekend hours. Donor outreach will be primarily digital or involve regional visits and events but there is potential for occasional long-distance travel.
